Training for Trainers 10-Hour Refresher

Presented by the

Georgia Association
on Young Children

SO, WHAT IF ...

... you need to meet the new Bright from the Start (BFTS) Training Approval System requirements by January 1, 2011?

... you took the 30-hour TFT and now realize that under the new Training Approval requirements 40-hours of TFT I are part of the requirement to be approved as a Level I trainer?

... you don't have 10 hours of training of trainers coursework that qualifies to fill the additional 10-hour requirement?

If any of these dilemmas apply to you, and you are going to apply to be a Level I trainer, the Training For Trainers (TFT) 10-Hour Refresher course will help you meet the Level I requirement. This TFT is a 1-day session with a 3-hour pre-session assignment designed to increase your effectiveness in working with childhood care and education professionals. Trainers will gain new information on adult learning styles, cognitive overload, the difference between learner centered and information centered training and considerations in working with today's adult learner.

Facilitator: Trudy Friar

This Training for Trainers course is approved by BFTS Training Approval System and offered by the Georgia Association on Young Children (GAYC).
